

NEW LAW IN FORCE AND MANY LIABLE

CORPORATIONS MUST FILE NAMES OF OFFICERS.

List Must Be Put On Record With the Register of Deeds Or Snap Judgments Can Be Secured With No Chance For the Corporation to Defend Itself.

There is an enactment of the last legislature of Wisconsin that is of material interest to incorporated companies, but which does not seem to be thoroughly understood. It is a new section of the law in reference to the filing of names of companies, etc., which are incorporated, together with the names of all officers, with the register of deeds of the county in which such company or association has been organized, or has its office. Under this law, as changed, unless its requirements in this respect are fully complied with, suits may be brought and snap judgments secured against corporations without an opportunity upon the part of such companies to contest. The law is to the effect that where proper names of officers of corporations cannot be found on file at the office of the register of deeds, papers in suits against such companies may be served on the strength of such service. If names are properly on file in that office, persons intending to sue must secure such names there, if they do not know them, and serve directly upon the officers.

So important is this law to incorporated companies and associations, says The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin that B. M. Well recently looked the matter up and found that comparatively few organizations of the character directly affected knew about it or understood its significance as a means of protection to them or a sly way of getting snap judgments, where the law has not been complied with. Mr. Well requested an opinion upon the law from Quarles, Spence & Quarles, and he has received the following from that firm of attorneys:

Section 1753B of the revised statutes of 1893, requires lists like enclosed to be filed with the register of deeds of the county where the corporation's principal office is located, before the first of October next.

From this opinion it would seem that a former officer of a corporation would be liable in suit and judgment, where no successor in office appears in the list on file with the register of deeds.

The full text of this important law is as follows:

Section 1753B. Every private corporation incorporated or organized under any law of this state shall, on or before the first of October, 1898, file in the office of the register of deeds of the county where its principal office is located, a list containing the names of its president, vice-president, if any, secretary, treasurer, cashier or managing agent, on whom service of process, notices or orders may be made, as provided in subdivision 19 of section 287. Any such corporation hereafter formed shall file its list in the office of the register of deeds where its principal office is located, within five days after each election or appointment, or any subsequent change of such officers respectively, and in all cases until such list of officers is so filed as aforesaid, service of all legal process, notices, orders or other legal proceedings may be lawfully and effectually made upon any such corporation by delivering to and leaving with the register of deeds where such corporation has its principal office, true copies of such legal process, orders, notices or proceedings, in which case service shall be valid.

This was a new section of the law suggested by the revising committee of the legislature of 1898, to facilitate the service of process.

EXTENDING BUSINESS.

A Janesville Institution Proposes To Do Business All Over Wisconsin.

The success of the past year and the evident need of placing a permanent cure within the reach of everybody in the state, has decided the managers of The Hargreaves Institute, Room 1, Jackson Block, to open up a number of branches in different parts of the state. These will all be managed from the Janesville office, which will be the headquarters for Wisconsin. A bright, active business man who would take an interest in the business would find an excellent opening here. The large amount of territory to be covered opens up a splendid field for energetic, enterprising business ability. The Hargreaves Institute is now an established success here and will doubtless meet with equal success in all its branches.

The proposition, which the regents decided to accept read as follows:

"I take pleasure in informing you that the Biblical Alliance of Wisconsin, recently organized, offers to the University of Wisconsin, for the year 1898-99, a fellowship and scholarship fund of $1,500 for the encouragement of linguistic, literary, historical and archaeological studies, upon a non-sectarian basis, in the department of Hebrew and Hellenistic Greek of the university. Graduate and undergraduate students to hold such fellowships and scholarships are to be appointed by the regents on the nomination of the professor of Hebrew and Hellenistic Greek. It is also provided that the sum is to be paid by individual holders of fellowships and scholarships, and it is understood that no sums are ever to be paid in excess of the amount provided for the purpose by this alliance. All sums are to be paid on June 22, 1899.

"The fund, is at the present time pledged to the extent of about one-half the amount, and the alliance feels warranted in assuming that the remainder will be provided in due time."

ABSENT WIFE WORRIED HIM

Walworth County Farmer Walks Long Way To Find Her

Timothy Collins, who works on the John Petcock farm, three miles south of Whitewater, walked all the way to Janesville yesterday just to see his wife, who had been visiting at the Burdick farm near Afton.

Mr. Collins says he was afraid that something had happened to his wife because he hadn't heard from her for several days. He says that when he arrived here he unexpectedly met her, she being on her way home. Mr. Collins says he walked here for the reason that he did not have money enough to buy a ticket. He applied to Postmaster Kenyon for sufficient cash to buy a return ticket.

Such devotion is a rarity in this section of the state, and Mr. Collins no doubt is, in the eyes of the women, a model man.

MUSTERING OUT THE SOLDIER BOYS

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS HAVE BEGUN AT MILWAUKEE.

Paymaster's Absence Makes the Date of Quitting the Service Uncertain—Less Permanent Injury Than Expected Is Shown—Work of the Officers Must Be Completed By 19th

Captain Andrus, of the regular army, has begun the examination of the members of the First Wisconsin regiment preparatory to their muster out of service. Yesterday the two Milwaukee companies, I and M, were examined, but owing to the absence of the paymaster the work of mustering out could not be completed, as all the men must receive their pay before quitting the service.

The examinations are not as rigorous as expected. Each soldier was asked by the commanding officer if he had been sick or wounded during his term of service. This answer was spotted on a blank which will be sent to the pension department. If the soldier had been sick he was asked if his illness had left any effects, either temporarily or permanently. The certificate was then signed by the captain and the soldier took it to the mustering-out officer, Capt. Andrus, where Maj. Harry E. Bradley was on hand to examine all soldiers who claimed that the service had left them in poor health. After the examination the men signed the pay rolls and then left.

"The percentage of soldiers who have contracted permanent injury or disease is far less than I had supposed it would be. While I cannot make an accurate estimate," said Dr. Bradley last evening, "I do not think that the percentage will go over 8 per cent. There are a few who have contracted rheumatism and a few have ruptures, but the percentage is small where the disease is of permanent standing. Many of them had fever and are still weak, but they will come around all right if they take proper care of themselves."

There is yet some doubt as to the exact date upon which the Janesville boys will be mustered out of service. Capt. Andrus expects a paymaster to arrive from Chicago before the close of the week. His work at any rate must be completed by the 19th.

THE BATTLE OF VIRDEN

Fourteen Are Dead and Thirty-eight Wounded, Three of Whom Will Die.

Virden, Oct. 13.—[Special].—The intense excitement caused by the bloody battle of yesterday continues, and the presence of the state militia alone prevents another sanguinary encounter. More troops are expected to arrive today. A recount of the dead and injured this morning shows fourteen dead and thirty-eight wounded, three of whom are expected to die.

Washington, Oct. 13.—[Special].—The secretary of war has authorized the governor of Illinois to utilize the Fourth volunteers to suppress the riots at Virden.

WOMAN SENTENCED FOR THIRTY DAYS

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS THE CHARGE.

Mrs. Jennie Henning Was Given a Full Dose In Court This Morning—She Was Implicated In the Kanucane Rig Deal—Prisoner Resides In This City.

Mrs. Jennie Henning, of this city, pleaded guilty in the municipal court this morning to the charge of cruelty to animals, and was sentenced to thirty days at hard labor in the Rock county jail.

After recovering from the shock sufficient to realize the situation, Mrs. Henning managed to shed a few tears and state that she considered the sentence a most severe one.

Should Have Known Better.

The prisoner is a bright-eyed, handsome woman of some thirty summers and for some time prior to her removal here, lived in Beloit. She resides with her parents, whose home is near the Western avenue railroad tracks in the Monterey district.

The offense for which this woman is made to suffer was the ill treating and driving of Patrick Kanucane's horse on the night of Sunday, October 2. According to the testimony submitted this morning Mrs. Henning and a man by the name of Ross took the Kanucane horse and buggy from in front of Skelly & Wilbur's store, on the night of Sunday, October 2, and from this city they drove the poor animal at break-neck speed to a lonely spot beyond Emerald Grove, where they abandoned it. According to Mrs. Henning she was not aware of the fact that the rig had been stolen, but she says she thought Ross had hired it. For this reason the charge of horse stealing was not brought against her, and she no doubt escaped luckily on this account.

Looking For Ross

The police are now on the lookout for the man Ross, who appears to be a stranger in this city. It is said that he resides in Beloit, and that he will soon be arrested and landed behind the bars. When Mrs. Henning was arrested in this city yesterday by Chief Hogan she appeared very much surprised at first, but when presented with all the facts in the case she confessed that she was implicated in the matter. She was then taken to jail, where she spent last night. Her husband lost a leg in this city several months ago by being run over by the cars, and for some time was given treatment at the Palmer Memorial hospital.

Spaniards Kill Porto Ricans.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Oct. 13.—The earlier reports of murderous outrages at Arecibo are now confirmed. The trouble started Sunday in a saloon where some Spanish soldiers and a number of Porto Ricans got into a quarrel. The Americans were not then in possession of Arecibo. The Spaniards retired, got their arms, returned and fired upon the crowd, killing five and wounding twenty-five, several severely. A great deal of excitement prevails at Arecibo and many families are leaving for San Juan.

The affair hastened the arrival of the United States troops at Arecibo, where order has been restored.

May Close Tanneries.

New York, Oct. 13.—Officials of the United States Leather company refuse to confirm or deny the rumor that within a few days, owing to lack of profit in the leather business, it will endeavor to lower the price of hides and advance that of leather by closing many, if not all, of its tanneries and dependent industries. The tanneries in the east and south number about one hundred. The price of hides just now is almost prohibitive. Interests outside of the company are disposed to believe that it intends to take prompt and radical action because the conditions of the leather trade are unfavorable all over the world.

Forty Sailors for Dewey.

Peary and the members of his expedition.

The company had a force of men at work today, and the trouble will soon be remedied.

WAR CLOUD HAS CLEARED AWAY

PEACE AGAIN REIGNS AT LEECH LAKE AGENCY.

Indians Show No Disposition to Renew the Conflict—Bishop Whipple May Use His Kindly Influence—Advice Given By a Friendly and Educated Indian.

St. Paul, Oct. 13.—[Special].—Despite the assurances from Leech Lake that the Indians there have submitted to the demands of the United States authorities it is not believed here that the trouble is over. A very large proportion of the band is known to be in favor of making war upon the whites, and it may be a difficult matter to restrain them.

A letter received here from Bishop H. B. Whipple, "the apostle to the Indians," who is now attending the Episcopal convention in the state of Washington, promises that as soon as he returns to Minnesota he will undertake a mission to Leech Lake for the purpose of endeavoring to bring about a better understanding between the two races. Much is expected from this mission, as the venerable bishop has the implicit confidence of the Indians throughout the northwest. Heretofore his word has been law among them, and where force has failed of results his persuasion has brought the Indians to terms.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 13.—[Special].—Quiet prevails and the trouble will probably be settled Friday, when the Pillager Indians will meet Commissioner Jones in council at the agency.

W. F. Campbell, an Indian who studied law at the state university and is practicing his profession at the White Earth reservation favors capturing the hostiles, if it takes four regiments of troops to do it. This must be done, he says if the Indians are to be held under the authority of the government. Mr. Campbell and two of the leading chiefs from White Earth say that a big council at the White Earth reservation decided to mark as outlaws any Indians who joined the Bear Islanders from the reservation.

STIR OVER PENNANT.

Award Made to Kansas City—Indianapolis May Withdraw.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Where Indianapolis stands is the question that agitated Western League magnates yesterday. Early in the day the board of directors met, overruled all protests and awarded the pennant to Kansas City. Following the leaking out of its report a rumor spread around the lobby of the Great Northern hotel that the Indianapolis club, defeated in its protests, had decided to bolt the league. All the rest of the evening the talk was on nothing else, though later both the Indianapolis representatives denied that they had uttered any such threats.

The Indianapolis protests were thrown out along with all others on whatsoever grounds. The conservative sentiment was that the league needed Indianapolis in its already riddled circuit, and that Indianapolis would be stranded if it departed from the West. The Western league claims territorial rights over its circuit and is ready to resist the heretofore assumed supremacy of the National league wherever the latter chooses to operate.

WISCONSIN AND CHICAGO WILL PLAY FOOTBALL.

Managers Fisher and Stagg Have Settled All Difficulties and the Game Will Come Off at Marshall Field—Some Minor Details Yet to Be Arranged.

The Chicago Inter Ocean of this morning chronicles the fact that Chicago and Wisconsin universities will meet in a foot ball game on Marshall Field Nov. 12. That much has been decided by Managers Stagg and Fisher, representing the two institutions. There are still several minor details to be arranged before the final contract is drawn up, and they will be settled by the two athletic boards. Manager Fisher was empowered to enter into a contract under the old agreement. Manager Stagg, prompted by new exigencies which have arisen, wished to make a few immaterial changes in regard to a division of receipts, which Mr. Fisher did not feel empowered to concede. It is a matter of such slight consequence that there can be no doubt of the final outcome.

Light practice was indulged in by the Chicago varsity yesterday, the scrubs giving them a good tussle. Herschberger and Allen spent considerable time in place kicking, the former giving a splendid exhibition. Work has been begun on a new big tier of bleachers. An other large stand will follow on the opposite side of the field.

NEW ROUTE TO THE CEMETERY

Oak Hill Avenue Is Undergoing Repairs And Is Impassable.

Funeral processions will soon enter Oak Hill cemetery by a new route.

Oak Hill avenue, which was the favorite route a few years ago, is now being improved, and a large force of men, under the direction of Street Commissioner Palmer and Alderman Rice, have been engaged in the work during the past few days.

The re-opening of the route will be a big improvement, and will do away with the using of Washington street, which has always been avoided on account of the street cars. Many horses have been frightened along this street, and several accidents have been narrowly averted. By the new route processions will go straight out Mineral Point avenue to Oak Hill avenue.

BROKE A PLATE OF GLASS

Some Vandal Threw a Stone at J. M. Bostwick & Sons' Window

The local dry goods firm of J. M. Bostwick & Son's are at present anxious to make the acquaintance of the bright minded person who took the trouble to throw a stone through one of the large plate glass windows in their South Main street store, but who failed to report the happening.

The window is damaged to the extent of several dollars and will in all probability have to be replaced by a pane of glass. The stone was thrown at night and made a hole about the size of a quarter of a dollar. It is said that the window is insured. This is not the first plate glass that has been broken in town and those guilty of such acts of vandalism if apprehended will be dealt with severely.

THE FALL OF MANILA—THE ATTACK ON FORT SAN ANTONIO ABAD. FROM HARPER'S WEEKLY.

AFTER A DRAWING BY T. DE THULSTRIE. Reproduced from Harper's Weekly. By Permission.

"First Company, Colorado, forward!" With a cheer the men went over the trenches, and we after them. At 100 yards from our works the company halted and lay down in the swamp. From the water our fleet continued to pound the Spanish fort and trenches. After a time our signal station notified them to stop fire. Colonel Hale and Lieutenant-Colonel McCoy, First Colorado, joined the one company in the swamp.

"Up and on!" shouted the colonel. Before the fort could be reached there was a stream to ford. The men went up to their chests in water, holding their rifles well over their heads to keep them dry. Our illustration, taken from Harper's Weekly, depicts the volunteers at this critical moment. Were the Spaniards waiting to annihilate his handful of men? On our right in the direction of the First Brigade, there was heavy firing. At 100 yards from the fort the company knelt and fired. Just then the magazine in the fort blew up with a flash and a puff of smoke. Another series of short rushes, and the company was within twenty-five yards of the fort. At that moment the flag ship, Olympia, about three thousand yards from shore sent a single shell from one of her 8 inch guns. It was a splendid shot: it cut along the back of the Spanish wall which ran from the sea to the fort and drove out any Spaniards that were left there. Then there was a dash for the wall and a scramble to get to the door of the fort. Outside lay a wounded soldier on a stretcher, abandoned by his companions in their haste. Inside the fort no one stopped to notice the few dead, but climbed over the debris to get the Spanish flag. To Lieutenant Colonel McCoy belongs the honor of pulling it down, and up went the stars and stripes.

Suddenly, from our left, the Spaniards opened a brisk fire, and our men took refuge behind garden walls as best they could. Stray shots came from houses where Spanish sharpshooters had secreted themselves. Reinforcements kept coming up. Down the long street leading to the walls of Manila we could see the Spanish soldiers retreating.

General Greene and staff, at the head of the Second brigade, came up. Gallopers came and went, carrying the general's orders. This was a dangerous occupation, for the Spanish sharpshooters were still at work.

The rumor spread that the white flag had been raised on the walls of Manila and, sure enough, as the advanced regiments broke into the open before the city walls, there on one corner a white flag streamed to the wind. Cheer after cheer rose from our men.

All honor to our generals! all honor to our soldiers! all honor to our country! Such a thing has never happened before in the history of wars. One hour after the city was taken the tram-cars were driving about and women were walking unmolested in the streets. As I write, our men, wet, tired and hungry—lie about the streets in the rain as a safeguard to the property and lives of conquered enemy.

WILL LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS.

Rebellious Indians Send Messengers of Peace.

STATE THEIR GRIEVANCES.

Letter to Commissioner Jones from the Bear Islanders Recounts the Causes Which Led to the Uprising—Soldiers Sent Out to Protect Workmen.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 13.—The peace commission to the hostile Pillager Indians returned shortly before daylight Wednesday morning bearing the following communication, the result of negotiations with the fighting men at their camp:

"Commissioner of Indian Affairs W. A. Jones, Walker, Minn.—Dear Sir: We will from this time lay down our arms and will fight no more, but we beg of you to settle the difficulties that are oppressing us. We ask you to meet us at this point so we may lay before you unmolested all our grievances personally. It will be a great pleasure for us to meet you and have your assistance in taking a heavy load from us. Respectfully,

"THE BEAR ISLAND INDIANS." Commissioner Jones was aroused from sleep at the hotel and the foregoing was handed to him. He at once gave orders that a boat be in readiness at 10 o'clock to bear him and the peace commissioners to the Bear Islanders' camp. The party sailed from here at the appointed hour. It is thought the council at Bear Island may adjourn to meet at the agency, hostiles being guaranteed safe conduct back to their camp. All newspaper men were refused passage on the boat. The Indians had expressed a desire to have what they term the penicimen, present, but commissioner Jones entered an effective protest.

Commissioner Jones, the Rev. Father Aloysius Hermanutz and Gus Beaulieu, the attorney for the Chippewas, have returned from the council. These men went among the Pillagers for the purpose of inducing them to surrender the braves wanted by the United States marshals, but no surrender was made or is yet promised. The fighting men agreed to visit the agency, confer with their Indian friends there and send a delegation of three to counsel with the United States authorities Friday. No promises were made as to what they would or would not do.

Commissioner Jones and those with him were received very cordially by the Bear Islanders. Their steamer was met by a small fleet of canoes, and they were taken ashore with much dignity. They were led one mile into the woods, where they found about eighty Pillagers assembled in camp. No arms were in sight. At the council the Indians did most of the talking, telling Commissioner Jones, through Beaulieu's interpretation, of their woes at the hands of the alleged timber stealers and asking for redress. Mr. Jones promised them that their grievances should have prompt and sympathetic attention.

Capt. Roach of the Seventeenth infantry, Capt. French, Lieuts. Reeves and Barker of the Third infantry and twenty-two men of the Third have been sent out to protect the crews at work on the Great Northern extension from Park Rapids. The detachment is commanded by Lieut. Barker, the other officers being assigned to duty with troops already here.

BERGER FLAYS SCHILLING

Victor E. Berger, editor of Vorwärts, the Milwaukee organ of the socialistic democracy, takes Robert Schilling, the populist, to task. In the course of a lengthy letter to the Milwaukee Journal, Mr. Berger says:

What is the evidence? The populists got into power in quite a number of western and southern states. What have they done for the people against the exploiters? What have they achieved? Nothing.

Did the earnings of the working people in such states get any larger? Did their condition become more secure? Were they better defended against lack of employment and want in sickness, and old age? No.

Some may claim the populist is a farmer's party. Well and good. What has it done for the farmers? Did the general standard of the farmers' living rise where the populists got into power? No.

What did the populists do for anybody where they were in power? Did public education grow more? Did public corruption grow less? Nothing of the sort. A new set of politicians got to the public crib. Some of them did not steal. Others did. Some of them did not take bribes. Others did.

Where did the democrats of Wisconsin stand two years ago? In 1896 the platform of the democratic party of Wisconsin declared for the single gold standard, i. e., for the bankers and bond holders, to use Mr. Schilling's language. But Mr. Schilling and the populists of Wisconsin fused with the democrats all the same two years ago. And Mr. Robert Schilling even did run for congress on the ticket of a party that had declared in its state platform against "silver" aid for the bankers and the money lenders.

But this year the democratic state platform says literally "we declare our firm devotion to the democratic principle, as enunciated in the Chicago platform of 1892." And to all this the democrats added that new, event and only remedy against all ills, from corn to whooping cough—the referendum.

But Mr. Schilling and his party will not support it. Why? It cannot be the platform. If the "pops" supported the democratic party in Wisconsin two years ago on a platform which was for the "gold standard" in the state and for the "silver standard" nationally, and Mr. Schilling is still calling that platform almost as advanced as that of the populists—in which I concur—then the "pops" ought surely this time to support the democratic party, when its platform is all "silver" and the referendum.

Mr. Schilling hates the democratic party, but he thinks he must prove that he did not get any money from the republicans (this time by giving them a "dig") also. This is what he says:

"Republicanism politically means fanaticism, bigotry and prejudice."
Now, this at the best would be the remark of an ignorant who wants to say something telling and does not know what. And the man who made this remark the democrats had on their ticket as candidate for congress! A party that has polled over 6,000,000 votes in this enlightened republic means simply "fanaticism, bigotry and prejudice politically," according to Schilling. If that be the case, where is the usefulness of the "referendum." Alas! Mr. Schilling ought to read more and talk less.

Mr. Berger's letter shows plainly that the populists and the Bryanites are only coquetting with each other to get votes, and that principles are a secondary consideration. Wisconsin citizens are too intelligent to allow themselves to be bargained for in this manner. The people know that the republican party is true to its colors. They know that republicanism is the cure for the ills brought about by the Bryanites and the pops, and hence, a great majority of them will vote the republican ticket this fall.

A democratic paper recently made the statement that General John M. Palmer would support the Bryanite ticket this fall. General Palmer denies the statement. He says that he regards sound money democrats as the only real democrats. His advice to democrats is to vote for republican candidates for congress until the free silver folly is abandoned.

The post office department has completed its reports for the year ending June 30 and the returns show an increase of business of $6,357,150. General Prosperity's army, it seems, is in the field and enlisting new recruits every day.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin says the Indian uprising is not as dangerous as some of the emotional correspondents seem to imply. The nation that has won the Philippines is not going to lose Minnesota.

The Third Wisconsin will soon be on its way home from Porto Rico, Gov. Scofield having carried his point. The regiment has rendered excellent service and undergone trying hardships, and is entitled to a rest.

Candidate Donnelly neglects to state his position on the money issue. As he did not declare for gold there can be no question but what he is a silverite and Milwaukee voters will certainly defeat him.

Insurance Commissioner Fricke has taken a hand in the case of the Mutual Hail Insurance company. He decides that the assessment is too high and that the salaries of the officers should be cut down.

Jesse James, Jr., has been arrested on the charge of train robbery. Whether he was arrested because he robbed a train, or just because his name was Jesse James, remains to be seen.

Republican speakers are greeted by large audiences wherever they go, and the voters are enthusiastic wherever the word is spoken. This is merely an indication of what is to come.

PROTECTION FOR POLICY HOLDERS

MR. FRICKE THINKS MORE GUARANTEES ARE NEEDED.

Reserve Liability of Insurance Companies in Wisconsin May Be Increased—Experience Has Shown the Ruinous Effects of Rate Competition—Stability Is the Object Sought.

In a circular letter issued to the officers of the casualty companies Commissioner Fricke, of Wisconsin, joined by Emil Giljohann, deputy commissioner, call attention to the law governing the calculation of reserves by the department. The law says that the commissioner shall make such regulations as in his judgment are equitable and just to both policy holders and company alike; provided, however, that the reserve liability so determined shall not be less than 50 per cent of the premiums written in the company's policies." The circular then continued: The commissioner believes that an unearned premium reserve of 50 per cent, would be sufficient under the prevailing rates of the past two years and a half, but in view of the impending rate war companies are notified that should a rate war take place the Wisconsin department will insist upon a larger per cent. in the calculation of the reserve in order to protect the policy holders.

Investigations regarding liability business show many curious facts, accounting somewhat for the early demise of four companies that have failed in this business and the strong desire evinced on the part of others to obtain from their statistical data the necessary information for the coupling of adequate rates.

Two companies still doing business had this experience as the result of a previous rate war: The writings of 1893 showed at the end of that year, in one company, a loss ratio to income of 6.7 per cent, and a reserve of 50 per cent was set aside that year according to the demands of some of the insurance departments. The result of the business of that year, closed out on the thirty-first day of December, 1897, showed a loss ratio of 93 per cent on the business of the year 1893, absolutely proving that in order for perfect safety a reserve of the entire premium should have been set aside to properly protect the policy holders under the rates obtained during that rate war. The second company's experience was almost on the identical lines, the first year's loss ratio to income being 10 per cent, the ending of the business six years later, 98 per cent.

In liability insurance losses are long deferred and companies starting in this business are apt to be greatly deceived by the payments at the end of the first or second year, most of the claims not maturing until long afterward. The commissioner therefore deems it proper to give to the companies early notice of the determination of this department to increase the per cent requirements in calculating the reserve, should he deem such a step necessary.

CUPID HAD A VERY BUSY TIME OF IT

MANY WEDDINGS WERE CELEBRATED YESTERDAY.

Miss Addie Holloway becomes Mrs. Lloyd—Annie L. Welch united to George L. Hatch—Miss Anna Tank the bride of I. T. Matthews—Daggett-Dye Nuptials.

Cupid did a rushing business in Janesville yesterday, and a dozen hearts are happy today than ever before. At the residence of Mrs. Kittie Holway, No. 155 South Main street, last evening, her daughter, Miss Addie, was united in marriage to John Lloyd, of Pittsfield, Ill. Rev. Arthur C. Keppel performing the ceremony. About thirty of the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride was dressed in white organdie, her sister, Miss Nora, being her attendant. Mr. Davis, of Kansas, acted as best man. The parlors were beautifully decorated, and a fine wedding supper was served. The wedding gifts were numerous and costly.

The young couple will reside in Pittsfield, Ill., where the groom is engaged in the hardware business, and occupies an enviable social position. The bride has long been a favorite in local society, and her many friends here will extend to her the most hearty congratulations.

Hatch-Welch.

Last evening at 8 o'clock the home of Mrs. A. W. Haughwout was the scene of the marriage of Miss Anna L. Welch and George L. Hatch, both residents of Elkhorn. Rev. A. S. Ralph, of the Elkhorn Universalist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the interested parties. The parlors were beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the vows were exchanged beneath a handsome floral arch, from which suspended two turtle doves. Smith's orchestra played the wedding march as the bridal couple entered the parlors. The bride wore a gown of white organdie, and carried a handsome bouquet of roses. A fine wedding supper was served after the ceremony.

The young couple will take up their residence in this city. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. A. W. Haughwout, and has won hosts of friends by her many graces and accomplishments. The groom has made his home in this city for several years past, and is known as a musician of talent and promise. He has been a member of Smith's orchestra, in which he has played the harp. They will go to housekeeping at once, making their home at No. 39 Milwaukee avenue.

Daggett-Dye.

At 8 o'clock last evening at No. 107 Court street, the words were spoken which made George Daggett, of Belvidere, Ill., and Mrs. Julia Dye, of this city, husband and wife. Rev. W. A. Hall, of Court Street Methodist church, performed the ceremony, the parlors being decorated with flowers arranged in patriotic colors of red, white and blue. "Dewey's Triumphant March" the latest patriotic composition, was played as the bridal couple entered the parlors. The bride was attended by Luella Dye and the groom by Herman Kecker. After partaking of a wedding supper the bridal party started for Belvidere, where they will make their future home.

Matthews-Tank

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tank, No. 56 Pearl street, last evening their daughter, Miss Anna, was united in marriage to I. T. Matthews. A large number of relatives of the young people witnessed the ceremony, following which all partook of a sumptuous wedding supper. The groom is night operator for the Chicago & North-western railroad at Afton and in that village made the acquaintance of his bride. Both of the contracting parties have many friends both in Janesville and Afton, who will extend to them many felicitations.

Lacey-Mahr

Word was received here today of the marriage at Cadillac, Mich. yesterday of Jerry Lacey, of that place, and Miss Nora Mahr, of Janesville. Miss Mahr has for a long time been head waitress at the Grand Hotel, and previous to coming here was employed at the Goodwin in Beloit. She made many friends while here, both among her associates and the guests of the house, who all unite in extending congratulations. The young couple will reside at Cadillac.

Wixom-Doughlass.

Yesterday John C. Wixom and Miss Katherine M. Doughlass, of Rock Prairie, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents in Rock Prairie. They left on the evening train for a brief wedding trip to the Omaha exposition. They were the recipients of many tokens of esteem from their numerous friends.

CANDIDATES MUST PAY TAX

Revenue Stamps To Be Placed Upon Certificates of Nomination.

Rock county political candidates who are up for office this year will be obliged to contribute to Uncle Sam's war revenue fund. All certificates of nomination must bear a 10 cent revenue stamp. This is the interpretation Henry Casson, secretary of state, puts on the war tax law. He says that in order to make certain that there will be no trouble about the matter, it has been determined that stamps must be affixed to all certificates of nomination before the names of candidates are placed upon the official ballot.

BATTLE AT VIRDEN, ILL.

Eleven Men Killed and More Than Thirty Wounded.

TRouble IS NOT YET OVER.

Effort of the Coal Mine Operators to Bring Negro Laborers from the South
the Cause of the Trouble—Gov. Tanner Orders Troops to the Scene.

Virden, Ill., Oct. 13.—After a bloody battle, in which eleven were killed and thirty-four wounded, striking miners, detectives, guards, sheriff and deputies are resting. Business is entirely suspended. Men with their families are at home, with windows and doors barricaded, trembling in fear that the riots will begin again.

In the battle Wednesday afternoon 700 striking miners were engaged, and a posse of fifty Pinkerton and Thiele detectives who were guarding a train bringing in negro miners and thirty-two ex-Chicago policemen who were in the stockade. Aside from these, Sheriff Davenport has a force of twenty deputies.

Troops have been sent here by Gov. Tanner to protect life and property and he has asked the federal authorities to allow him to use Col. Culver's regiment. He still insists the soldiers shall not aid the coal-mine operators in their purpose of working imported negro miners, and he declares the operators ought to be convicted for causing the bloodshed here. Mr. Lukens is quite as vehement in his denunciation of the governor for his failure to send troops here sooner.

The tragedy is the result of a determined effort on the part of the Chicago-Virden Coal Company to employ negro miners brought from Alabama to take the places of miners here on a strike. The strikers were equally determined and both sides sought to win by force of arms.

The killed are:

D. N. KILEY, Chicago & Alton detective.

William A. Kygar of Bloomington, engineer on train; shot through the arm.

William Masser of St. Louis, deputy; shot through the head, shoulder and hands; will probably recover.

Patrick Mack of Virden, employed by the operators of the Chicago-Virden shaft; bullet went through his thigh; will recover.

Ernest Ryan, a colored miner from Alabama; bullet went through his head; will recover.

The following are in St. John's hospital at Springfield:

Gustave Wersip, Mount Olive.

Edward Upton, Springfield.

Thomas Jennings, Springfield.

Joe Haines, Girard.

Joe Runk, Girard.

William Herman, Girard.

Joseph Baston, Mount Olive.

Of the eleven dead, six are miners, one a Chicago & Alton detective, one a stockade guard—Al Morgan of Chicago—and two detectives, W. W. Carroll and W. W. Clarkson. The wounded include eight strikers, six Pinkerton and Thiele men and seven guards at the stockade.

Thomas Stockton, formerly a lieutenant of police in Chicago, was killed by the militia. He was on guard at the stockade and failed to respond to an order to halt.

At midnight the miners were guarding the stockade and the Chicago & Alton tracks, apprehensive that an attempt would be made under cover of darkness to run the special back from Springfield and unload the negroes in the stockade. That such an attempt would result in the renewal of the afternoon's fighting is a certainty. It was not believed that the coal company would make any attempt to run the negroes in until the state troops arrive, and it is doubtful if they do then. The consensus of opinion is that the miners have won a victory, although it was done with blood, and that the Chicago-Virden coal company will abandon its attempt to put southern negroes in the mines. If it does the leaders of the miners assert that Puma operators, too, will abandon their attempt, and the result will be the life of the miner's union, which the Illinois operators, by concerted action, have tried to stamp out.

The miners, shortly before noon Wednesday, received word that the special train bearing the negroes was at Shipman, which is about an hour's run from Virden. About 12:40 the train arrived in Virden. The train consisted of a box car, three coaches and a caboose. The train did not make any attempt to stop at the depot, but ran up to the stockade of the Chicago-Virden coal company, which lies along the right-of-way of the Chicago & Alton road about six blocks further north. Just as the train reached the southern limits of the city a miner stationed there fired a gun in the air, which was the signal arranged by the miners to announce the arrival of the train bearing the negroes. No more shots were fired until the train passed the depot, when quite a number of shots were fired, and it is claimed by the miners that the shooting was commenced by the guards on the train.

When the train reached the stockade it stopped, and then came the battle. About fifteen white men got off the train and ran into the stockade. The men on the train kept up a steady fire, which was answered by the miners. By far the heaviest firing came from the tower of the coal mine inside the stockade. Some of the balls from the tower went through the planks on the other side of the town. D. N. Kiley, a Chicago & Alton policeman, who was brought down from Chicago, was standing near the north end of the depot platform, five and one-half blocks away, and was shot through the head by one of the guards in the tower.

At the east side of the stockade where the train stopped the scene was awful. The miners who were making their demonstrations were to the south of the stockade, but over in the field east of the Chicago & Alton tracks was a crowd of miners. The guards in the tower and on the train commenced picking them off, and here is where the miners lost all their men who were killed.

The train met a furious volley of bullets from over a thousand men, every shot intending to kill. The volleys were kept up for fully ten minutes, until the uselessness of remaining became apparent to the trainmen, and the train was sped on to Springfield.

The men inside the stockade telephoned for physicians, and J. F. Eyster, the manager of the coal company store, drove up to the stockade with two physicians. As he was leaving the shaft he was seen by a number of miners, and a frenzied crowd of several hundred miners followed him up town. He ran into the store to escape the crowd, and they riddled the store with bullets. Eyster, who is a young man, got out on top of the store and ran along the tops of several store buildings. Several hundred shots were fired at him. He came down through one building and was shot through the head when he reached the walk. He fell, and a few minutes later was carried out in the square, where two men, both of whom were foreigners and were recognized, jumped on him and kicked him in a horrible manner. He was later picked up and taken by friends, but it is not thought he can recover.

When the scene of battle was transferred from the shaft to the store of the company, which is in the center of the business portion of the town, the postoffice, which is next to the company store, and all other business houses in that immediate vicinity were at once closed, and a reign of terror prevailed in the entire community. Miss Ada Beatty, a young lady who clerks in the company store, had a very narrow escape. She was in the store during the entire fusillade. The attack on Mr. Eyster meets with the condemnation of the miners generally. The wounded men were cared for as well as the circumstances would permit, as the mine operators had secured every surgeon in the city, and all were within the stockade but one. The supervisor secured the services of surgeons from Girard and Carlinville. The dead and wounded were sent to their homes.

Orders of the governor to the troops which have arrived are to protect life and property, but under no condition to assist the Chicago-Virden Coal company to land negroes within the stockade. These are the orders communicated to Mayor Noll by the governor.

FIND REFUGE IN SPRINGFIELD.

Negro Miners Brought to the Capital After the Battle at Virden.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—The arrival in Springfield of the bullet-riddled train bearing the negro miners who were repulsed by the strikers at Virden caused a great sensation. The train brought seven injured men—six whites, deputies and one negro miner. The cars were riddled with bullets and twenty window panes were broken, twenty-seven bullets had hit the engine cab and one had taken effect in the arm of Engineer Bert Kygar. Two of the deputies, named Carroll and Clarkson, were fatally injured and died shortly after arriving here. There were seven wounded men on the train, and all were taken to the Springfield hospital.

There were probably 160 negroes on the train when it arrived at Springfield, of whom about twenty were women and children. They were thoroughly frightened. About fifty deputies were on the train. The negroes declared they did not understand the situation or they would never have come to Virden.

Troops Ordered to Virden.

Springfield, Oct. 13.—Battery B of Galesburg, five companies of infantry, and three troops of cavalry have been ordered to Virden. Soon after the outbreak at Virden Gov. Tanner received word of the trouble and immediately directed the adjutant general to send these militiamen to the scene of the riot. The Galesburg battery and one company of the militiamen passed through this city early in the evening on the way to Virden. Adj. Gen. Reese boarded the train at this point and has gone to Virden to assume charge of the troops. He is working under the following brief instructions from Gov. Tanner: "Protect life and property and disarm everybody."

Tanner Asks for the Fifth.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—Gov. Tanner has reported the conditions existing at Virden to the war department, and asked that the Fifth Illinois regiment, now in camp here awaiting its discharge from the United States service, be placed at his disposal. Col. Culver has tendered his services and those of his men to the governor if needed.
